BAY RIDGE SCHOOL AFTER MANUAL SCALP

Elevens Will Clash on the Gridiron at West End Oval To-day.

COACH PROUD OF CLINTON

Dave Hooks Thinks His Team Will Go Through Season Without Suffering a Single Defeat.

Manual Training and Bay Ridge High schools will meet on the gridiron at West End Oval this afternoon at 3 o'clock, In by a decisive margin if Larson puts his full team in the field. The game was arranged, however, as much in the nature of a final workout before the Commerce struggle on Saturday as for a real test of the Blue and Gold. The plays and forma tions to be used against the Manhattan boys will be run through, and if everything goes along well the substitutes will get a chance to gain experience in actual

Bay Ridge is taking the game more se riously. Kearney, the coach, realizes that a victory over Manual would put the team on the scholastic map and the boys will go out on the field ready to fight the battle of their lives. The team has been practising hard every afternoon at West End Oval, working on a few new tricks with which it hopes to surprise its op-

The Erasmus Hall football team, with five of its best men out of the line-up, engaged in some light practice on the Prospect Park Parade Grounds yesterday afternoon. A fifteen-minute scrimmage with the second team, tackling, running back kicks and work with the forward ss was followed by a signal drill. The boys worked with a snap and dash, and the plays were clicked off in fine fashlon. Ty Halstead, Paul Castellanos, Gulick, Webb and Marshall were not in Halstead's ankle is still thering him, and he will not be able to play on Saturday against Boys' High School in the double header at Ebbets Castellanos hurt his shoulder in practice and will be out for a couple of days, while Gulick injured his back against Manual, and is not ready to resume his position at end. Marshall and Webb were not in uniform, but are physically ready for the games to come Jimmy Olsen is improving as the season wanes, and has shown wonderful form in

Captain Gilmore, of De Witt Clinton, is game, nursing a bruised shoulder, and there is some doubt of his gainst Morris on Saturday afteron. Gilmore scouts the idea that he will watch his team from the side lines. Christgau, the other tackle, is limping and complaining that his neck is sore. To use his own words: "We beat Manual, all right; but I got it in the neck."

Dave Hooks, coach of the De Witt Clinton team, is proud of his team. When seen yesterday he said:

Tve got a great eleven this year. We ought to go through the season without a defeat. Fowler and Fitzpatrick, the nds, are brainy fellows, while Christgau and Gilmore are the best tackles in the dty. In fact, the entire squad is made up of first class fighters, who play the game all the way through hard and

There is a rumor that Frank Parkington, fullback of the Commerce team, will be declared ineligible to represent his schools games committee. Parkington entered Commerce from De Witt Clinton this year. The rules of the Public Schools Athletic League demand that a boy be matriculated at a school for twenty school weeks before he becomes eligible to represent it in athletics. At a meeting of the games committee recently a clean bill of health was given to Parkington, but some dissatisfaction and much comment followed the decision. The case will be definitely settled at the next

This same ruling is preventing Webb, the Erasmus Hall backfield man, from representing the Buff and Blue in the came from the Boys' High at the beginning of the current term. When he left the Marcy avenue school he asked Dr. Sullivan, the principal, for a letter permitting him to represent Erasmus in athletics this fall. Dr. Sullivan willingly agreed to give the letter, but Mr. Andrews, of the high school games committee, refused to sign it, so Webb watches the TO STUDY ATHLETICS HERE sames from the side lines.

Fred Moore, the Clinton guard, will be moved over to tackle in the absence of Gilmore. Moore is a husky youngster who knows football well.

Commerce went through a hard drill Yesterday. The whole squad was not out and the scrimmage was not especially hard, but plenty of work was done. Captain Hagemeyer kept right after his men. and urged them to use their hands in charging and to follow their men. The Orange and Blue forwards have been reak in charging all season.

Jess Willard, the Nebraska heavyweight by many as the most promising of the white heavyweights, will not meet in a ten-round bout for some time to come, or, in any case, until Willard straightens out his contract with the Queensbury Athletic Club, of Buffalo. This fact was announced following a meeting of the State Athletic Commission at No. 41 Park Row vesterday afternoon.

Early last January Willard was matched 'hope," before the Queensbury Club, but for some reason cancelled his engagement and went West. Willard was suspended for six months, and has not been in New York since.
